The Wicked Deep
by Shea Ernshaw
YA FIC ERN
It's been 18 months since the Raxter School for Girls was quarantined. Since the Tox hit and pulled Hetty's life out from under her. First the teachers died one by one. Then it began to infect the students, turning their bodies strange and foreign. Now, cut off from the rest of the world and left to fend for themselves on their island home, the girls don't dare wander outside the school's fence, where the Tox has made the woods wild and dangerous. But when Byatt goes missing, Hetty will do anything to find her, even if it means braving the horrors that lie beyond the fence.

On her 18th birthday, Hayden inherits her childhood home—on the condition that she uncover its dark secrets. Hayden tried to put the past behind her, and it worked. She's getting ready for college, living in a Brooklyn apartment, and hanging out with her best friend and roommate Del. But now it's all catching up with her: her mother's mysterious disappearance a decade before, her father's outlandish theories about a lost supernatural race, and Hayden's own dark dreams of strange symbols and rituals in the Colorado woods where she grew up.
And the Trees Crept In
by Dawn Kurtagich
YA FIC KUR
When Silla and Nori arrive at their aunt’s home, it’s immediately clear that the manor is cursed. The endless creaking of the house at night and the eerie stillness of the woods surrounding them would be enough of a sign, but there are secrets too—questions that Silla can’t ignore: Why does it seem that, ever since they arrived, the trees have been creeping closer? Who is the beautiful boy who’s appeared from the woods? And who is the tall man with no eyes who Nori plays with in the basement at night...a man no one else can see?

Asylum

YA FIC ROU
New Hampshire College Prep is more than a summer program—it’s a life line. An outcast at his high school, Dan is excited to finally make some friends in his last summer before college. But when he arrives at the program, Dan learns that his dorm for the summer used to be a sanatorium, more commonly known as an asylum. And not just any asylum—a last resort for the criminally insane. As Dan and his new friends explore the hidden recesses of their creepy summer home, they soon discover it’s no coincidence that the three of them discovered the secrets of their town.

Bad Girls Don't Die
by Katie Alender
YA FIC ALE
Alexis thought she led a typically dysfunctional high school existence. Dysfunctional like her parents’ marriage; her doll-crazy 12-year-old sister, Kasey; and even her own anti-social attitude. When a family fight results in some tearful sisterly bonding, Alexis realizes that her life is creeping from dysfunction into danger. Kasey is acting stranger than ever: her blue eyes go green sometimes; she uses old-fashioned language; and she even loses track of chunks of time. Alexis wants to think that it’s all in her head, but soon, what she liked to think of as silly parlor tricks are becoming life-threatening.

The Bone Houses
by Emily Lloyd-Jones
YA FIC LLO
Since the death of their parents, Ryn and her siblings have been scraping together a meager existence as gravediggers in the village of Colbren, which sits at the foot of a deadly mountain range once home to the fae. The problem with being a gravedigger in Colbren, is that the dead don't always stay dead. The risen corpses are known as “bone houses.” Legend says they're the result of a decades-old curse. When Ellis, an apprentice mapmaker, arrives in town, the bone houses attack with new ferocity. Together, Ellis and Ryn embark on a journey that will take them deep into the heart of the mountains, where they will have to face both the curse and the long-hidden truths about themselves.

Ivy’s mother is dead, and she isn’t sad about it. Her mother was a manipulative personality who never told the truth—about where she came from, who Ivy’s father was, or why they were living their lives on the run. Now that Ivy has been sent to Darkhaven, an island off the New England coast, to live with a rich uncle she didn’t know existed, she is forced to reckon with her mother’s past. When she wakes up from one of her nightmares covered in someone’s blood, Ivy fears that whatever demons her mother battled have come to roost in her own mind.
