Adrift after her sister Bailey's death, Lennie finds herself torn between quiet, seductive Toby—Bailey's boyfriend who shares her grief—and Joe, the new boy in town who bursts with life and musical genius.

Each offers Lennie something she desperately needs...though she knows if the two of them collide, her whole world will explode.

With a promise to live in the now without regrets, Maddie boards the Wishwell determined to make every moment count. She finds new friends in her fellow Wishwellians, gets even closer to her quirky family, and falls for painfully gorgeous Enzo. But despite the laughter and headiness of first love, Maddie knows she is on the brink of losing Gram.

Since then, it's been three years of silence, during which time Otis has become the protégé of Dara—part drill sergeant, part friend—who's hell-bent on transforming Otis into the Olympic swimmer she can no longer be.

But when Otis learns that Meg is coming back to town, he must face some difficult truths about the girl he's never forgotten and the brother he's never stopped grieving. As it becomes achingly clear that he and Meg are not the same people they were, Otis must decide what to hold on to and what to leave behind.

After the accident, the magic drained from Quinn's life. Now Dylan is gone, the camp is a lonely place, and Quinn knows it's her fault. But the new boy in town doesn't see her as the monster she believes herself to be.
